One of the questions parents and teachers often ask children is, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" For younger children the answer can change from week to week. Children may say at one time, "A basketball player," and at another, "An airplane pilot," and at another, "A zoo-keeper." The answer could depend on whatever story or television show caught their fancy that week. But as children mature, they start considering seriously the answer to that question. As they enter college they begin directing their lives toward what will be a particular profession in life. This weekend's Gospel highlights the need for workers in the harvest of the kingdom of God. Jesus sends out disciples ahead of him so that they can prepare the way for the places that he intends to visit. But the text is not only about what took place in Galilee and Judea two thousand years ago. As the living word of God, the Gospel also speaks to our lives today. The need for laborers for the harvest is just as great in 2013 as it was in AD 32. As a matter of fact, the need is even greater, since the proclamation of the Gospel goes on in so many more places than in the first century of Christianity. Parents and grandparents can influence what their children and grandchildren think about as appropriate life choices. We don't need a specific "Vocation Sunday" to ask the question of sons or daughters or grandchildren if they have ever considered the possibility of a religious vocation. The Holy Spirit might just be working through you if you ask. While a life of ministering to others may have its own trials and difficulties, it can also be filled with great joy and satisfaction. Is there someone you can ask, "What do you want to be when you grow up?" After all, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few" (Lk 10:2).

 as Christ's disciples, we should not be overly concerned about material goods, possessions and money. We are called to willingly share our gifts and expect nothing in return.

Vocations "Each of you has a personal vocation which He has given you for your own joy and sanctity. When a person is conquered by the fire of His gaze, no sacrifice seems too great to follow Him and give Him the best of ourselves. This is what the saints have always done, spreading the light of the Lord ... and transforming the world into a welcoming home for everyone." Pope Benedict XVI

Discover Natural Family Planning

Registration for Fertility Awareness Classes

The Family Life Office of the Diocese of Metuchen is currently holding registration for classes on fertility awareness. Engaged and married couples are encouraged to enroll. Classes are held throughout the diocese and based on methods used in Natural Family Planning.

Natural Family Planning (or NFP) is a safe and reliable alternative to artificial contraception. Benefits of NFP include zero side effects, a greatly reduced rate of divorce for NFP user couples, and a much improved level of communication among couples. This method is safe, inexpensive and dependable.

Couples planning to get married or looking to improve their existing marriage owe it to themselves to learn more about this wonderful way of life. For further information or to register for the next class beginning at 7PM on Tuesday, July 16, 2013 at St. Magdalen Church, Flemington, call the Family Life Office at 732-562-1990 ext.1624 or email the office at: family.life@diometuchen.org.
