A lot was made in the last election about the two parties' differing appeals to women voters. Since the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment to the US Constitution, women have had the right to vote in every election. No candidate can afford to ignore more than half the population. Often the press will cite certain issues as being of particular concern to women (things like health care, violence, workplace equality, food security) as opposed to topics that the media would label as of more concern to men (defense, terrorism, banking and finance law). While legislators may find themselves attuned at one time to one part of the population, and then the other, in the end, they must respond to all of their constituents and be concerned with the common good. The Gospel this weekend gives us an insight into the band of believers who followed Jesus in his ministry. Luke paints a portrait of a mixed group of followers. There were the Twelve, that is the apostles, but there were also a number of women, some of whom were influential people. We know from the letters of St. Paul that in the early church men and women worked together to build up the kingdom of God by spreading the message of Christ. In forgiving the sinful woman in the Gospel, Jesus outlines a path to be taken in achieving the common good, a path of forgiveness and healing. These are not easy virtues to exercise in the political world, which is often a cutthroat, winner-take-all type of endeavor. As Christians, it is our duty to influence our legislators on the issues that will promote the common good of all rather than the personal good of some. As Luke's writings in his Gospel and in Acts of the Apostles points out, Christianity is a religion of community. In both our private and our public lives we profess our faith in Christ and we care for our neighbor.

STEWARDSHIP "When I entered your house, you did not give me water for my feet..." LUKE 7:44

Today's Gospel calls us to consider how we serve God. Do we consume like the Pharisee who simply reclines at the table and expects to be served? Or do we contribute like the woman who kneels before Jesus and washes His feet? Every day we must make a choice. Take or give? Consume or contribute? Recline or serve?

For the Week The Altar Bread & Wine will be consecrated in memory of Charles Schlenker r/b Mary Sue Schlenker & sons. The Main Altar Candles will burn this week in memory of Kenneth Deitrich r/b wife, Joann, children & grandchildren. The Sanctuary Candle will burn this week in memory of Mary & Joseph Antonelli r/b daughter.

Prayer for Parish Development

Father in Heaven, send us your Holy Spirit to strengthen us with Your wisdom. Counsel us to know Your way. Give us the understanding that we need to discern Your will. Give us fortitude and courage to do what is right.

Give us vision for our future which lies in Your hands. Give us the gift of piety in all that we do, so that we might please You in all things. We ask this through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Proper Church Attire

With the hot weather here, we urge you to respect both yourselves and the church. Shorts and beachwear are not appropriate dress for church. Our church is air-conditioned and there is no reason for improper attire. Please abide by this request.
