Parents of young children spend a lot of time teaching them manners. It is part of the socialization process in which three-, four-, and five-year-olds learn to come outside of themselves. They begin to recognize that there are others in the world, and that unlike in their infancy when all attention was focused on them, they now discover that they must interact with others who also have a claim on the social order. By teaching young children not only the words, but also the concepts of "please" and "thank you," parents assist their youngsters in finding a place in society. Children learn that they need to share, that not everything belongs to them. They discover that they must interact with others to get things to work properly. "Please" and "thank you" acknowledges that outsiders also have rights. All this brings us to Sunday's Gospel. There are only a few places in the New Testament in which we actually hear Jesus pray. The Gospel today is one of those. As he addresses the Father he prays not only for the disciples gathered with him at the Last Supper, but he also prays for us. He asks that we may be one and that we may be brought to perfection. Across two thousand years of time, Jesus is asking his Father to take care of us today! "Please" and "thank you" are key words in prayer. They are actually part of three of the four traditional forms of prayer. Petition (asking for ourselves) and Intercession (asking on behalf of others) are "please." A prayer of thanksgiving is, of course, "thank you." The fourth type of prayer is adoration or praise. In his prayer, Jesus is interceding for us with his Father. It is the kind of prayer we can emulate, getting us out of ourselves as we ask God to be attentive to the needs of so many others in this world.

STEWARDSHIP "I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end." REVELATIONS 22:13

These words from the last chapter of the Bible are a final reminder for us to put God first in our lives, in all that we do. Putting God first doesn't mean giving until it hurts. It means giving until we are filled with joy and contentment. This usually means giving more generously, not less.

For the Week The Main Altar Candles will burn this week in memory of Rose Zielinski at the request of her husband, Edward. The Sanctuary Candle will burn this week in memory of all Altar Rosarians Living & Deceased at the request of Angela.

The 8:30AM Mass at Christ the King will be cancelled and the 10:30 AM Mass at Christ the King will be held at 11:00 AM. Please join us as we celebrate this Feast Day together. All children who received First Holy Communion and Confirmation this year will take part. Please wear your FHC attire or Confirmation robe. Come to the Sacred Heart Auditorium no later than 7:45 AM.
